Location

The site is situated at the end of Thornton Road and lies approximately 2 miles north of Northampton town centre. The surrounding locality comprises a mixed range of residential and commercial properties. A tributary of the River Nene forms the western fringe of the site whilst the adjoining land to the north and south is predominantly undeveloped. A wide range of amenities are provided within the town centre and also the neighbouring district of Kingsthorpe both of which can be accessed via the A508.

Accommodation

Each compound is well secured, predominantly enclosed by palisade fencing. The compounds are flat, regularly shaped, and largely surfaced with loose hardcore plainings, providing a durable and practical base for various commercial uses.

The wider site extends to approximately 1.742 acres (0.705 hectares) and is broadly rectangular in shape. Access is gained via a single entrance fronting onto Thornton Road, leading to an internal spine road (not adopted), which is predominantly tarmac surfaced. This internal roadway provides access to 12 individual compounds of varying sizes, occupied by a range of local businesses.
